

Cusco, Urubamba valley and Machu Picchu

4 days / 3 nights

1st day: Lima, Cusco

- Transfer from the airport in Cusco to the hotel
- City tour in Cusco (city and surrounding areas: town square, cathedral church, temple Korikancha and the town center, afterwards we visit the ruins from Q'enqo, Puca Pucara, Tambo Machay and the fortress from Sacsayhuaman), half day

• Overnight in Cusco

2nd day: Sacred Valley

- Guided visit through the Sacred Valley (Urubamba valley); handycraft market in Pisac, the city of Urubamba and the ruins of Ollantaytambo (incl. lunch)
- Overnight in Cusco

3rd day: Machu Picchu

- All day tour to the ruins of Machu Picchu (from Cusco to Aguas Calientes by train, around 3 hours)
- Guided visit through the ruins of Machu Picchu (incl. lunch)
- Train transportation back to Cusco
- Overnight in Cusco

4th day: Cusco, Lima

- Transfer from the hotel to the airport in Cusco

Time to travel

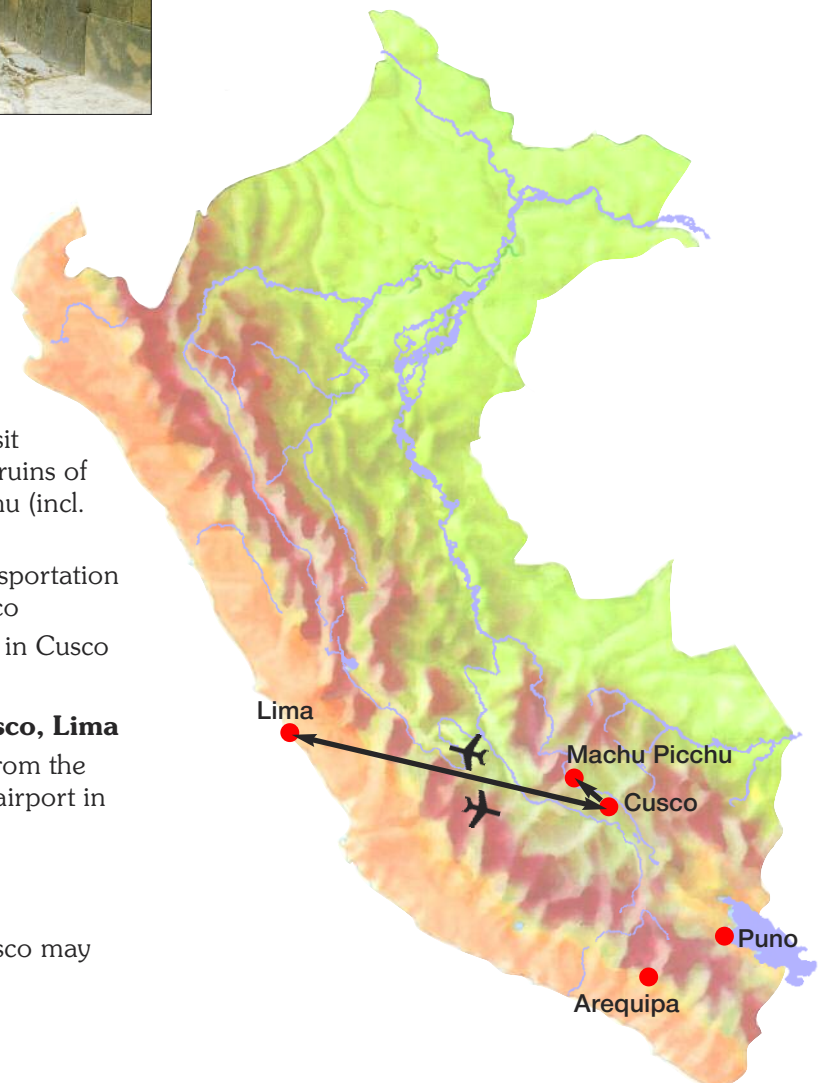

At any time. The tour sequence in Cusco may change on availability.

Included

- Overnights with breakfast
- all transportation needed (privat car, tourist bus, train) and transfers
- mentioned tours with bilingual guide (english/spanish) in a group, together with other tourists
- all necessary entries
- mentioned meals
- support by local, qualified staff

Not included

- permanent tour-conductor
- flights
- tips
- not mentioned meals
- airport taxes (Lima international flights: US$ 30,25, Lima local flights: US$ 6,05)

Individualize your tour

This program can be adapted to your individual requirements. For more options see in «Cusco»

Best season for the trip

Any time possible. The dry season is from may to november, where it doesn't rain often in the mountains where is situated Cusco. A clear few is usually possible. The rainy season goes from december to april. You can find less tourists and more variety and fresh vegetation. At this time most of the orchids bloom.